

Germany Visa Document Requirements

When applying for a German visa, one of the most important aspects of the application process is the required documents. If your document file is incomplete or incorrect, your application may be rejected (or best case scenario, delayed).

That's why it is important to pay attention to the document checklist and ensure that you are submitting everything as required.

Discover more Best vacation packages German visa requirement checklists
Embassy Appointment Booking Visa Eligibility Checker Consulate Locator Tool
Health Insurance expatriate Visa photo services German Healthcare System
German travel adapters Immigration Consultation Service

Germany Visa Requirements

The required documents for a Germany visa are:

- Application form.
- Valid passport.
- Two identical photos.
- Proof of accommodation in Germany.
- Round-trip flight reservation or itinerary.
- Health insurance.
- Proof of financial means.
- Visa fee receipt.
- Letter of invitation (if applicable).
- No-objection letter from your school or employer.
- Additional documents based on your employment status.

Important note: Please keep in mind that this is not an exhaustive list of documents. The list will vary depending on the embassy or consulate in which you are applying as well as your nationality and specific circumstances. Always check in with the German embassy or visa center before submitting the completed document file.

Visa Application Form

You start your application procedure by filling out the German visa application form online. Give detailed and accurate information about yourself and the purpose of your travel that complies with the information in the other required documents. Print the form and sign it at the end before attaching it to the rest of the required documents.

You can select the visa type (short-term or long-term) and language from the drop-down menu at the top.

Valid Passport

You need a passport which is valid for at least three months, starting from the date you plan to depart Germany. It must also have a blank page to attach the visa.

Keep in mind that your passport will remain at the embassy throughout the time of your application.

You need two passport-size pictures, which are in line with German visa photo requirements, including size, color, and face position.

Proof of Accommodation in Germany

You need a document that proves you have booked accommodation for the time you will be in Germany. This could be a hotel booking, a rental agreement, or a letter of invitation by a host.

Round Trip Reservation or Itinerary

You have to show the embassy that you have planned your entry and departure dates, by showing your return flight ticket (or other transport, as applicable), or a Flight Itinerary.

Travel Health Insurance

Everyone who enters Germany needs valid travel health insurance, which is in line with Schengen insurance requirements (€30,000 coverage in all Schengen States). You have to submit an insurance certificate, clearly stating the coverage amount.

See what type of insurance you need depending on why you are travelling to Germany:

- Travel Insurance for Tourists/Visitors in Germany
- Health Insurance for Students in Germany
- Health Insurance for Foreign Employees in Germany
- Health Insurance for Freelancers in Germany
- Health Insurance for Au Pairs in Germany
- Health Insurance for Refugees/Asylum Seekers in Germany

Proof of Financial Means

You have to submit recent bank statements (last three months) or show a letter of sponsorship, to prove you can financially support yourself during your visit. You need €45/day for every day you spend in Germany.

Visa Fee Receipt

When you pay the visa fee, you have to attach the payment receipt to the rest of the documents. You may pay the fee beforehand or when you submit the application (this depends on the specific embassy or visa application center).

Letter of Invitation

If you are traveling to visit friends or family in Germany, they have to send you a letter inviting you to visit. In the letter, they must clearly state the relationship between the two of you, your dates of travel, as well as what your plans are during your visit. The letter must be signed and addressed to the German embassy or consulate handling your visa application.

If you are traveling for business, or another event (conference, seminar, meeting), the organization or company which is hosting the event has to send you a formal letter of invitation. Similarly, the letter must contain your full name, the reason why your presence is required, and the dates during which the event is held.

See how to write a letter of invitation

No-Objection Letter

If you are employed, your employer must issue a "no-objection letter", stating that you have notified the company about your absence. The letter must also contain your position in the company, how long you have worked there, as well as when you are expected to return.

If you are a student, your school must issue the "no-objection letter", containing your enrollment details (study course, department, year of studies), as well as when you are expected back.

Discover more Best vacation packages German Travel Insurance
Immigration Consultation Service Visa Eligibility Checker
German citizenship application guide Document translation services
German Culture Guide Travel Itinerary Builder German travel adapters
Federal Foreign Office

Additional Documents Based on Employment Status

Depending on your employment status, you may also be asked to submit additional documents, as follows:

If Employed

If you are employed, you will have to submit the following documents:

- Employment contract. The document must state your position and the date you started working there.
- Current bank statement of the latest 6 months.

Getting a German Visa Worldwide

Germany Visa in the UK
Germany Visa in the US
Germany Visa in India
Germany Visa in Dubai

Discover more Best vacation packages Embassy Appointment Booking
Freelancer health insurance Germany Health insurance expatriate
Travel Itinerary Builder Au Pair health insurance Germany
German visa requirement checklists Germany Travel Insurance
Schengen Visa Application Consulate Locator Tool

Latest News

Germany Visa Approval Rate
EU Blue Card in Germany vs. Other EU Countries
Converting from a Student Visa to Job Seeker Visa in Germany
Job Seeker Visa VS Chancenkarte in Germany
Can I Study in Germany Without a Blocked Account?

We use essential cookies to make our site work. With your consent, we may also use non-essential cookies to improve user experience and analyze website traffic. By clicking "Accept", you agree to our website's cookie use as described in our Privacy Policy. You can change your cookie settings at any time by clicking "Preferences".

Preferences

Accept

protected by reCAPTCHA
Your data will be processed and stored by Google

- Leave permission from the employer. The permission must state that the company permits you to take the annual leave during that period.
- Income Tax Return (ITR) form or Certificate of Income Tax deducted at the source of salary.

If Self-Employed

If you are self-employed, you will have to submit the following documents:

- A copy of your business license.
- Company bank statement for the latest 6 months.
- Income Tax Return (ITR).

Unemployed

If you are unemployed but married to an EU citizen, you will have to submit the following documents:

- Confirmation of Employment letter. If the spouse is an employed citizen of Germany, you should submit proof on that. This confirmation must be no older than three months and must state the position held within the company as well as the starting date.
- Spouse's valid passport.
- An official marriage certificate.

Retired

If you are retired, you will have to submit your pension statements from the last 6 months.

Student

If you are a student, you will have to submit the following documents:

- Proof of enrollment. A document issued by a tertiary educational institution that confirms your enrollment there.
- No objection letter from school or university. This is a formal letter from your educational institution, which confirms you are permitted to be absent during the time of the trip.

Discover more

🔗 Best vacation packages

🔗 Visa Requirements Checklist

🔗 Visa Eligibility Checker

🔗 German language courses

🔗 German Culture Guide

🔗 Expat financial services

🔗 Flight booking services

🔗 Germany Travel Insurance

🔗 Hotel reservation services

🔗 International student health insurance

Additional Documents for Minors

In addition to the commonly required documents, you will have to submit some extra documents for underage children:

- Original birth certificate. If it is in neither German nor English, a certified translation must be attached to it.
- Application form signed by both parents. Minors have to complete the same application form as all travelers, except that both parents, instead of the visa candidate, should sign it.
- Consent of both parents. If the minor will be traveling alone the consent of both parents represented by a signature in the application form and a formal letter is requested.
- Consent of one parent. If the minor is traveling with one of the parents, the consent of the other parent is still required.
- Custody court order. Required only in cases where only one parent has full custody over the child.
- Certified copies of ID/passport of both parents.

Also read: Reasons for Germany visa denial

Frequently Asked Questions

- + Should the Documents Be Printed or Digital?
- + What Language Should the Documents Be?
- + What if I Can't Submit One of the Documents?
- + Should the Documents Be Originals?
- + Which Documents Need to Be Legalized?
- + What if I Can't Provide Bank Statements?
- + What if My Passport Has Less Than Three Months' Validity?
- + What if I Am Not Staying in a Hotel?

Ready to move to Germany? Start here!

You're one click away from getting personalized tips for your German visa! Sign up for free resources, expert guidance, and invites to our exclusive webinars.

First name*

Last name*

Email*

☐ I accept Germany-Visa.org's General Terms and Conditions and Privacy Policy, and agree to receive information from Germany-Visa.org about future webinars, helpful newsletters, free updates, and special offers to support my journey to Germany. I can unsubscribe anytime.*

Register